WE, the Senior Class of January 1927 of Cleveland Heights high school being of sound mind and memory and considering the possibility of death sometime in January do make public and declare this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all or any other testaments heretofore made by us. We hereby give and bequeath:

ARTICLE I

First: Our sincere and lasting gratitude for a splendid school building from which we had the honor of being the first class to graduate.

Second: To all teachers who piloted us through these unforgettable years at high school, our sincere thanks.

ARTICLE II

To individuals of the faculty we make the following bequests:

First: To Mother Clarke a memorandum book to keep track of all her children's troubles.

Second: To Miss Alburn a class that appreciates great authors and good literature.

Third: To Miss Whitsey, the continuation of being an admirable guide and advisor to future classes.

Fourth: To Mr. Irons, all study halls run on the honor system.

ARTICLE III

To members of the school we make the following bequests:

First: Betty Snowden leaves to Mother Clarke all her lost fountain pens and various other possessions.

Second: Herbert Homans leaves all his love letters and dance programs to Edwin Caspell.

Third: Jack Schmunk leaves his air of sophistication to Donald Wright, to be applied gently.

Fourth: Betty Veazey leaves all her "E" badges to Mary Lou Freeman providing her endurance permits such a weight.

Fifth: James Gordon leaves his latest book, "How to be Modest though Handsome" to Bill Joslin.

Sixth: Kathleen MacDonald leaves the recipe of her famous hair dye to Dorothy Batchelor.

Seventh: George Flynn and Muriel Carter leave their various nooks and corners to Virginia Palmer and Bob Dodd.

Eighth: Denis Moonan leaves his experience as a senior to Clem Gunn, who may be able to use it.

Ninth: Blanche DeVries leaves her favorite hobby of skipping school to Grace Evans.

Tenth: Marie Hallreigel leaves her diary "Memories of a Dashing Brunnette", to Ruth Bohanon.

Eleventh: Melvin Gold leaves his travelogue "Bluffing Through High School" to Mark Daliere, who may disregard it.

Twelfth: Al Post leaves his hearty greeting to anyone who has the technique to get away with it.

Thirteenth: Betty Dorn bequeaths her contagious smile to Arline Landgrebe.

In witness whereof, this eighteenth day of January, 1927, we do accord our name.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1927

More About Seniors

THE photographs of the seniors whose names are listed below do not appear in the Caldron this year. But, although we will not be able to look upon those familiar faces as we leaf through the Annual, we fondly remember them as fellow classmates who have shared in the pleasures and activities of the June class.

How memories may be recalled even by glancing at a group of names! We have seen Jean Gerson dash madly through an opposing line for those last few precious yards that meant so much for Heights.

We have watched Big Eddie Rose loop in the winning basket when the fight was the hottest, we all know what a wonderful swimmer Dot Pasini is.

Fred Collette's ability to make a sax moan will not soon be forgotten, while who will ever forget Harry Goldman's "For the music, yes?"

And so, we might go on and on, if space would permit, and enumerate many, many incidents concerning the remaining seniors in this list.

They were our friends and we were theirs. We groaned together over tough Latin exams, chortled with glee over a Heights victory, intermingled our little spats with our happy smiles, and all in all were "hail fellows well met."

June Senior Will

Know all men by these presents: that we, the Senior Class of 1927 of Heights high school, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make and declare the following to be our last will and testament.

We hereby collectively make the following bequests.

First: To the teachers, many hard earned thanks for their patient and kindly guidance in these last three years.

Second: To the class of 1928, a Senior Prom as successful as our own.

Third: To Miss Lindsey, one long pike-pole, well sharpened at one end, to aid in urging sluggish students to home rooms.

Fourth: To Mr. Morley, our deep appreciation of the incomparable way he has guided us, in the face of serious difficulties, through our years at Heights. We're for him.

We hereby individually bequeath the following:

First: Roland Gittlesohn leaves his forensic powers to anyone having occasion to argue with a Heights teacher.

Second: Forrest Dresser leaves his ability to beguile E's from teachers, both masculine and feminine, to Irving Deckelbaum and Lester Dorsey.

Third: Joe Clough bequeaths his talent for making certain coy trumpet-like sounds in corridors to Jonathan Binns.

Fourth: Willard Benjamin leaves his way with the women to Robert Dodd.

Fifth: Art Williams leaves his book entitled "Memories of a Nine-Year-Man at "Heights" to Harold Lyke, with the condition that the legatee write a sequel to it.

Sixth: Hart Gilchrist leaves his euphonies of inhuman laugh to Arthur Jacobs.

Seventh: William Bertram leaves his incorrigible boldness to Ralph Helfrick in the hope that he may profit thereby.

Eighth: Charles Hall leaves his love of horseback riding to Mr. Thackaberry.

Ninth: Dorothy Batchelor bequeaths her copyrighted interpretation of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes", to Frances Sweeting.

I Found—An Annual

My Dear Friend,

As I was going
Through my books
Last evening
I came across
A dust covered book.
I had come across others,
But this seemed
To strike my fancy
For it was an
Annual—the Caldron.
I turned the first leaf
And the second
Tears came to my eyes
For there was Bill
And John and Pete
And all the rest
Oh what pangs of joy
And misery were Suffered, for
They were my friends
In peace or war.
I looked into it
Farther and farther;
Happy thoughts and feelings
Followed and I was glad
That someone had worked
Hard and made an Annual

Your Friend

Confessions of a Turtle

You've often heard someone say, "Oh, he leads a dog's life" as if that were the very worst kind of life possible. But, oh, how many times I've sincerely wished I were as exalted a creature as one of those same dogs. However, I am merely the lonely little mock turtle designed in the floor of the swimming pool at Heights High School. You know, fear of ridicule is one of the most vulnerable spots in my sensitive nature, so you can just imagine what dreadful tortures I survived during the first few days of my existence in this sphere. I really think every person in the school was brought up here to see the pool, and I honestly believe every last one of them laughingly pointed me out as one of the great curiosities of the grand new building. But the thing that made me feel worst of all, in fact, so badly that I could have wept, was the dirt. I must admit people had some reason to laugh at me when they saw the awful dirt and grime that surrounded me. It was really so bad that I could hardly poke my head above it, but now they have washed some of that stuff off so that I feel a good deal more respectable. And, oh, how refreshing that water felt for a change. It has been so long since I have had any water near me that I hardly knew how to act. And, do you know that now, far from being the morose, unhappy, and discontented animal that I was a few days ago, I am very near to being the happiest one on this earth. This change came about when I was kindly informed by some thoughtful members of the school that there was to be water in the pool in a few days and that I would finally feel at home again. So now I am once more satisfied to sit here quietly, sleepily dozing away the few intervening days between now and the supreme moment.

Football Trips

Perhaps one of the greatest enjoyments of football are the out of town trips on the busses. The team starts out in high spirits and everyone is feeling fine. The coach is continually telling the boys to rest and not be too sure of victory, but the boys are restless.

After the game, it is a different story. If victory has been bestowed on us the team runs the bus and informs everyone of its accomplishment. If defeated, the team has a sad, sad story and everyone passes the time in trying to sleep. Even this is unsuccessful. The members of the team in later life will remember these trips as some of the happiest moments of their school life.

THE purpose of the Student Council is to act as a connecting link between the faculty and the student body. It is composed of home-room representatives, one person representing girls' athletics, one representing boys' athletics and one representing all the clubs. There is also an executive, or advisory council which is composed of three seniors, two juniors and one sophomore together with the presidents of these classes. The council drew up a list of controls which includes a point system, and it chartered all clubs in the school.

Black and Gold

In September, 1925, the Black and Gold was radically changed. The old 7 x 9 sheet, published every week and printed at school was changed to a five column, four page by-weekly, the printing of which was done by a local firm. Despite the fact that the paper appeared but once every two weeks, it was not self-supporting. Due to expense of printing there was a deficit of $100 at the end of the year.

However, during 1926-7 the paper became financially sound. The circulation was increased from 750 to 950. Fewer cuts were used, more advertising was obtained, and a decidedly better contract was made with the printer. Because of these conditions, the business staff was able to show a substantial balance at the close of the semester.

CALDRON STUDENT CHAIRMEN

Caldron Staff

THE Caldron committee of 1927 was organized in an entirely different manner, this year having an editorial board in place of an editor-in-chief. The subscriptions came to the seven hundred mark without difficulty. The announcement of the staff was made in January, and projects were begun. Each one on the staff has worked his hardest and has tried to do his best. The staff hopes that the Caldron of the Class of 1927 will be approved by the faculty and student body, and will achieve a success for Heights High School.

THE aim of the Choral Club is to help those interested in music to improve their voices in preparation for membership in the more active vocal clubs of the school, to provide entertainment in assemblies, to teach its members to read four part music easily, and to cultivate a taste for good music.

Bank Staff

ON February 1, 1927, the School Bank opened its doors under the direction of Mr. Cooley of the commercial department. It accepted deposits of any amount from one cent up, and during the first two months averaged receipts of $258.53 per week. The number of accounts operating at the end of the first week was 275. In two months, this had grown to 442, an increase of 160.7%.

The staff members perform all the operations at the cashiers' windows and the managers' desks and assume full responsibility for the conduct of the bank's business.

The Bank is conducted by the students of the Commercial Department, who, in turn, are under the supervision of the Doan Savings & Loan Company. Our school savings system was introduced by the Educational Thrift Service Company of New York. At the end of each month a "Savings" Banner was presented to the Home Room which has deposited the most during the month. The school has about 45% of the pupils on the Savings Bank roll.

The Commercial Club is a new organization. Its purpose is mainly to interest pupils in commercial studies. Several times in the past year it has had experienced business men talk to the club about their views and their experiences. The Mountebanks, the sophomore dramatic club, have gained a high reputation for their splendid work under the direction of Miss Braselton and Mr. Cordray. Shortly after its organization in the fall with an enrollment of sixty-five, the club took part in the Carnival. Several of its members took part in the Vaudeville Show while others gained fame in the Sophomore Circus. Two plays, "The Knave of Hearts" and "The Exchange" given in assemblies proclaimed The Mountebanks one of the promising clubs of Heights High.

The Knave of Hearts

It was a long, long time ago that this lovely queen, this just king, and the gallant knave lived in the Kingdom of Hearts. From this land of make-believe the characters of the nursery rhyme stepped into their places living again in the charming fantasy by Louise Saunders, "The Knave of Hearts." This play revealing the truth of the old legend about the knave of hearts was exceedingly amusing when presented by a group of members of "The Mountebanks" or "The Sophomore Dramatic Club" of Heights High.

The enthusiasm of the players and the help of the dramatic club's faculty advisors, Miss Edith K. Braselton and Mr. A. T. Cordray, made possible this play's success.

A performance was given as an assembly program and shortly after was presented to the students at Roosevelt Junior High School. In addition to these the play was given before the crippled children at Holy Cross House and later in an evening of one act plays at the Heights High School Auditorium.

THE purpose of the Debating Club is to encourage debating, and public speaking, and to promote and conduct interscholastic debating. To further this purpose club members give short debates, impromptu or extemporaneous speeches, and take part in informal discussions of current questions.

Along with debating and public speaking the Debating Club co-operated with the History Club in selling tickets for, and serving the dinner during the Carnival. The Christmas dance was another Debating Club project.

THE Wistgoma Club is an organization of sophomore and junior boys which stands for "clean living, clean speech, clean sports, and clean scholarship."

Meetings are held weekly at the school building and at the East End Y. M. C. A. A brief devotional service, and discussion of school and club problems constitute the usual program at these meetings.

The activities sponsored by the club this year were: collection of paper for a Christmas-Cheer Fund; a Carnival exhibit; a "Mixer" for all the boys of the high school; and a "get-to-gether for the new boys of the second semester.

THE SPANISH CLUB

This club offers to students interested in Spanish an opportunity to become better acquainted with Spain and especially with Latin America.

One of the important events of the year was an imaginary trip to South America which lasted for several months, during which the members acquired much important and useful information concerning the great republics lying to the south.

Other items of interest on the club programs were the Spanish songs and games and the humorous Spanish plays given by the members.

La Giralda

"Quien no ha visto a Sevilla
No ha visto maravilla."

En Sevilla hay una famosa torre cuadrada, la Giralda, que se llama la "Torre de la Guarda". Tiene tres cientos cinquenta pies de altura y se eleva más allá de las altas torres de la catedral que está no muy lejos. Fué construida esta torre por los moros en el siglo doce, y es una admirable muestra del arte arabe.

En los tiempos antiguos era minarete de una mesquita, es decir, de una iglesia arabe, y desde allí los moros vigilaban los movimientos de sus enemigos, los cristianos.

Mucho años más tarde, en el siglo diez y seis, se puso encima una estatua colosal de la Fe. Ésta figura de bronce mide doce pies de alto y pesa más de una tonelada, pero (otra maravilla) gira muy fácilmente, gira al menor soplo de viento. Por eso se llama la Giralda, y hoy día el repiqueteo de sus campanas representa a la alegre Sevilla, ciudad que nació para ser feliz.

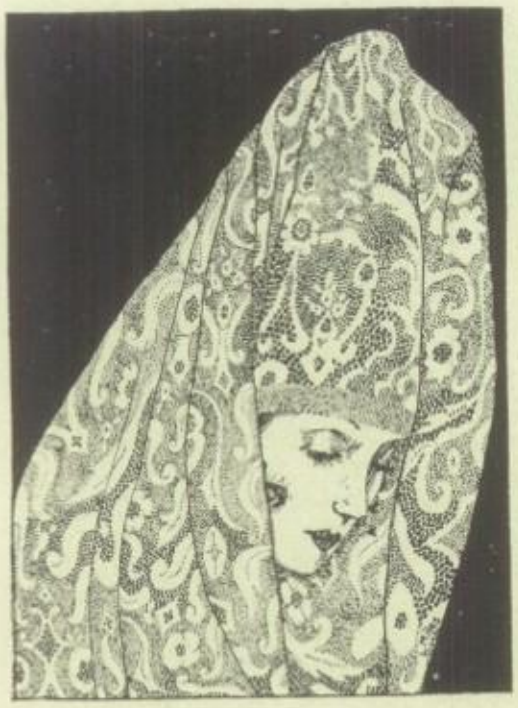
Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra

Hé aquí el monumento erigido a la memoria de Cervantes, autor de la novela inmortal, Don Quijote. Se halla este monumento en el parque de la Puerta de Oro en San Francisco de California. De rodillas ante el busto de Cervantes, como prestando homenaje al genio que los creó, están postrados Don Quijote, hidalgo, y Sancho Panza, escudero.

Cervantes nació en Alcalá de Henares en 1547, y murió en Madrid el 23 de abril, 1616, el mismo día en que murió en Inglaterra el célebre Shakespeare.

Fué publicado Don Quijote en Madrid en 1605 y en poco tiempo se vendieron más de treinta mil ejemplares. Fué traducido a todos los idiomas de Europa; fué traducido también al latín; fué puesto en verso en Inglaterra y en músico en Italia; y ha conservado hasta nuestros días su primera popularidad. ¿Lo ha leído usted?

Ruth Krumhansl, '29.



¿Quién es ella?

Cuando era niña, principió su carrera musical cantando las canciones populares a los marineros del pueblo de pescadores en donde vivía. Podía imitar la expresión facial, el acento y la voz de los rústicos, que hacían reir a todo su público.

Los años pasaban. Fué educado en un convento, pero nunca olvidaba las coplas dulces de provincia. Durante dos años terribles fué ella ciega, fué ciega pero podía cantar y.....cantaba.

Es ella ahora una actriz famosa. Fué a Sud América hace dos años para cantar las mismas canciones que cantaba en su juventud a los marineros, y la América del Sur la recibía con amor.

El año pasado vino a Cleveland y al teatro Ohio cantaba otra vez las coplas de Cataluña que encantaban a todos y que nos hacían sus esclavos por siempre.

¿Quién es ella? Raquel Meller.

"Laeti Latini" is now a Roman state. The members belong to one of the three classes of society, namely: ordo plebius, ordo equister, ordo senatorius. The senate, which consists of two consuls, a praetor, two aedilis, and a censor, conducts the business of the club. These officers correspond to the positions of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, program committee, and faculty advisor.

Italy was represented in the booth of nations during the carnival days. The organization sponsored one of the Friday afternoon dances in the winter. The interesting Roman exhibit shown in the library is due to the efforts of the Latin Club.

Members of the French Club enjoyed several interesting programs during the year. Miss Monnett gave a talk on "French Holidays" at one meeting while at another meeting Frances Wise told of a French school which she had attended.

During the Carnival the French Club sold Heights stationery and French etchings, and put into operation the French Air Mail Service. Through the kind efforts of Steven McKlusky, a Heights Alumnus, the Club procured a large French Flag which may be seen in the French room.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Paris m'appelle

Je veux la voir, la ville si belle;
Paris Paris toujours m'appèlle
Les Parisiens, les petits gamins,
Les beaux musées, les magasins,
Places, peintures, restaurants,
Ponts et fontaines jaillissantes,
Quartier latin, Rives de Seine,
Beaux palais d'anciennes reines
Et un jour j'y irai, c'est sur,
Car ce désir il faut accomplir.

Des Bons Motts

Le Nouvel Employe—J'ai refait dix fois cette addition.
Le Patron—C'est tres bien, mon garcon.
L'Employe—Et voici les dix resultats que j'ai obtenus. —(Le Petit Journal)

Gobineau est timide. Mais il veut se corriger. Il s'approche de la comtesse, bien resolu a lui faire un compliment delicat:
Enchante de vous retrouver, comtesse! Dire que cela faisait cinq ans que je ne vous avais vue!
Comme le temps passe! Vous me trouvez change?
Oh! oui.
Enlaidie?
Oh! non comtesse! Vous ne pouviez changer qu'en mieux. —(Le Petit Journal)

L'INSTRUCTION

Madame montre a la bonne la couche de poussiere que recouvre la table:
Regardez—je peux ecrire mon nom dans la poussiere!!
Quelle belle chose, madame, que l'instruction! —(L'Illustre Suisse)

Tiens voila un billet de 100 francs comme il n'y en a pas beaucoup.
Qu'a-t-il d'extraordinaire?
Il m'appartient.

Regarde, quelqu'un est tombee a l'eau!
Peut-etre est-ce seulement un acteur de cinema qui joue?
Comment le savoir?
Tres simple. S'il se noie, ce n'est pas un acteur de cinema; s'il ne se noie pas, c'en est un.
—(Le Magazine-Lausanne)

Elle—Je ne veux plus me faire photographier.
Lui—Pourquoi?
Elle—Si ce la me ressemble, je ne l'aime pas, et si cela me flatte, mes amis ne l'aiment pas.
—(L'Illustre Suisse)

Le Juge au Public—Le premier qui dira encore un mot sera immediatement expulse de la salle.

ALTHOUGH mental exertion might well be called a rarity, if not a lost art, the Chess Club exists for one purpose only: to exercise its brains in the pleasant stimulation of a great intellectual game.

A chess team of four members has been entered in the Inter-High School Chess League. James Bruce has been appointed as one of the two officers of the League.

Friendship Club

THE Friendship Club has two definite aims; one to promote and radiate the spirit of friendliness and happiness among the girls of the school, and the other, to render service to Holy Cross House for crippled children. The membership consisted of three hundred girls this year. Miss Wallace and Miss Deering are the advisors.

The meetings, held every two weeks, have had interesting programs. There have been speakers on good health, educational talks which have ranged from England to China, and various other talks interesting to the girls. Among the most important events of the year was the Mother and Daughters' tea in November, a style show given in March, and a colorful May festival. The most prominent and enjoyable function was the annual Fathers' and Daughters' dinner in April at which about 150 "Dads" attended with their daughters.

The Friendship Club through various other ways has promoted ideals, service, and the spirit of friendliness.

The Literary Club, an honorary organization established by Miss Wallace for A II, A I, B II girls, is completing its third year. Each meeting consists of original programs and presentations of drama and the dramatists.

A clever skit was their donation to one of the entertainments of the Friendship Club. They took part in the Carnival by the way of The Book Shop.

This club was organized for the purpose of giving an opportunity for studying various phases of plant and animal life that regular class room work could not afford.

Eligibility rules limit membership to students who are taking biology and maintaining a grade of "F" or better, and to students who have previously taken the subject.

Reports of interest, discussions, and microscopic work make up a large part of the program. The filing and care of a large museum case and the development of a balanced aquarium are part of the club's schedule.

THIS club which is composed of students interested in art, tries to gain a better knowledge of the various fields of this subject. Its contributions to the Carnival were a novel French booth filled with artistic and useful things, and the well known silhouette booth. Throughout the year, as the result of patient plodding, the club furnished posters for the school.

THE first semester there were fourteen boys in the Glee Club. They entertained the school in the Christmas assembly and sang "Comrades in Arms" at the February Graduation. The real purpose of the club is to prepare the boys for glee clubs in college. The club develops voices and trains the boys to sing four part music.

The second semester's Glee Club has twenty-four members.

THE Boosters' Club, which is composed of three representatives from each home room, is a new organization, started for the purpose of putting more spirit into Heights activities, and of raising the general standards of the school. At the Carnival, the dance sponsored by the club, was one of the most successful events carried on.

THE purpose of the History Club is to offer an incentive for the further investigation of historical facts. "Medieval History" has been chosen as the topic for study during the last half of the year. The building of models of castles and monasteries makes the work more interesting.

The club secured Mr. Newton D. Baker to speak in assembly and entertained with a luncheon in his honor. The members together with the Debating Club members, made the Carnival dinner a success. The Debating Club was entertained by the History Club with "A Trip Through the Ages."

The Banjo Club, which was organized in September 1926, made its first public appearance on the vaudeville program during the Carnival. The act was so well enjoyed that it was not long before the Banjo Club was in demand by every club in the school to furnish music and entertainment. The next engagement was to play for the Kiwanis Club at the Alcazar. The club provided music for the Boy's Mixer, East End Y. M. C. A. and the Boy's Sophomore party. When the high school provided a program for radio station W. H. K. the Banjo Club played several popular selections.

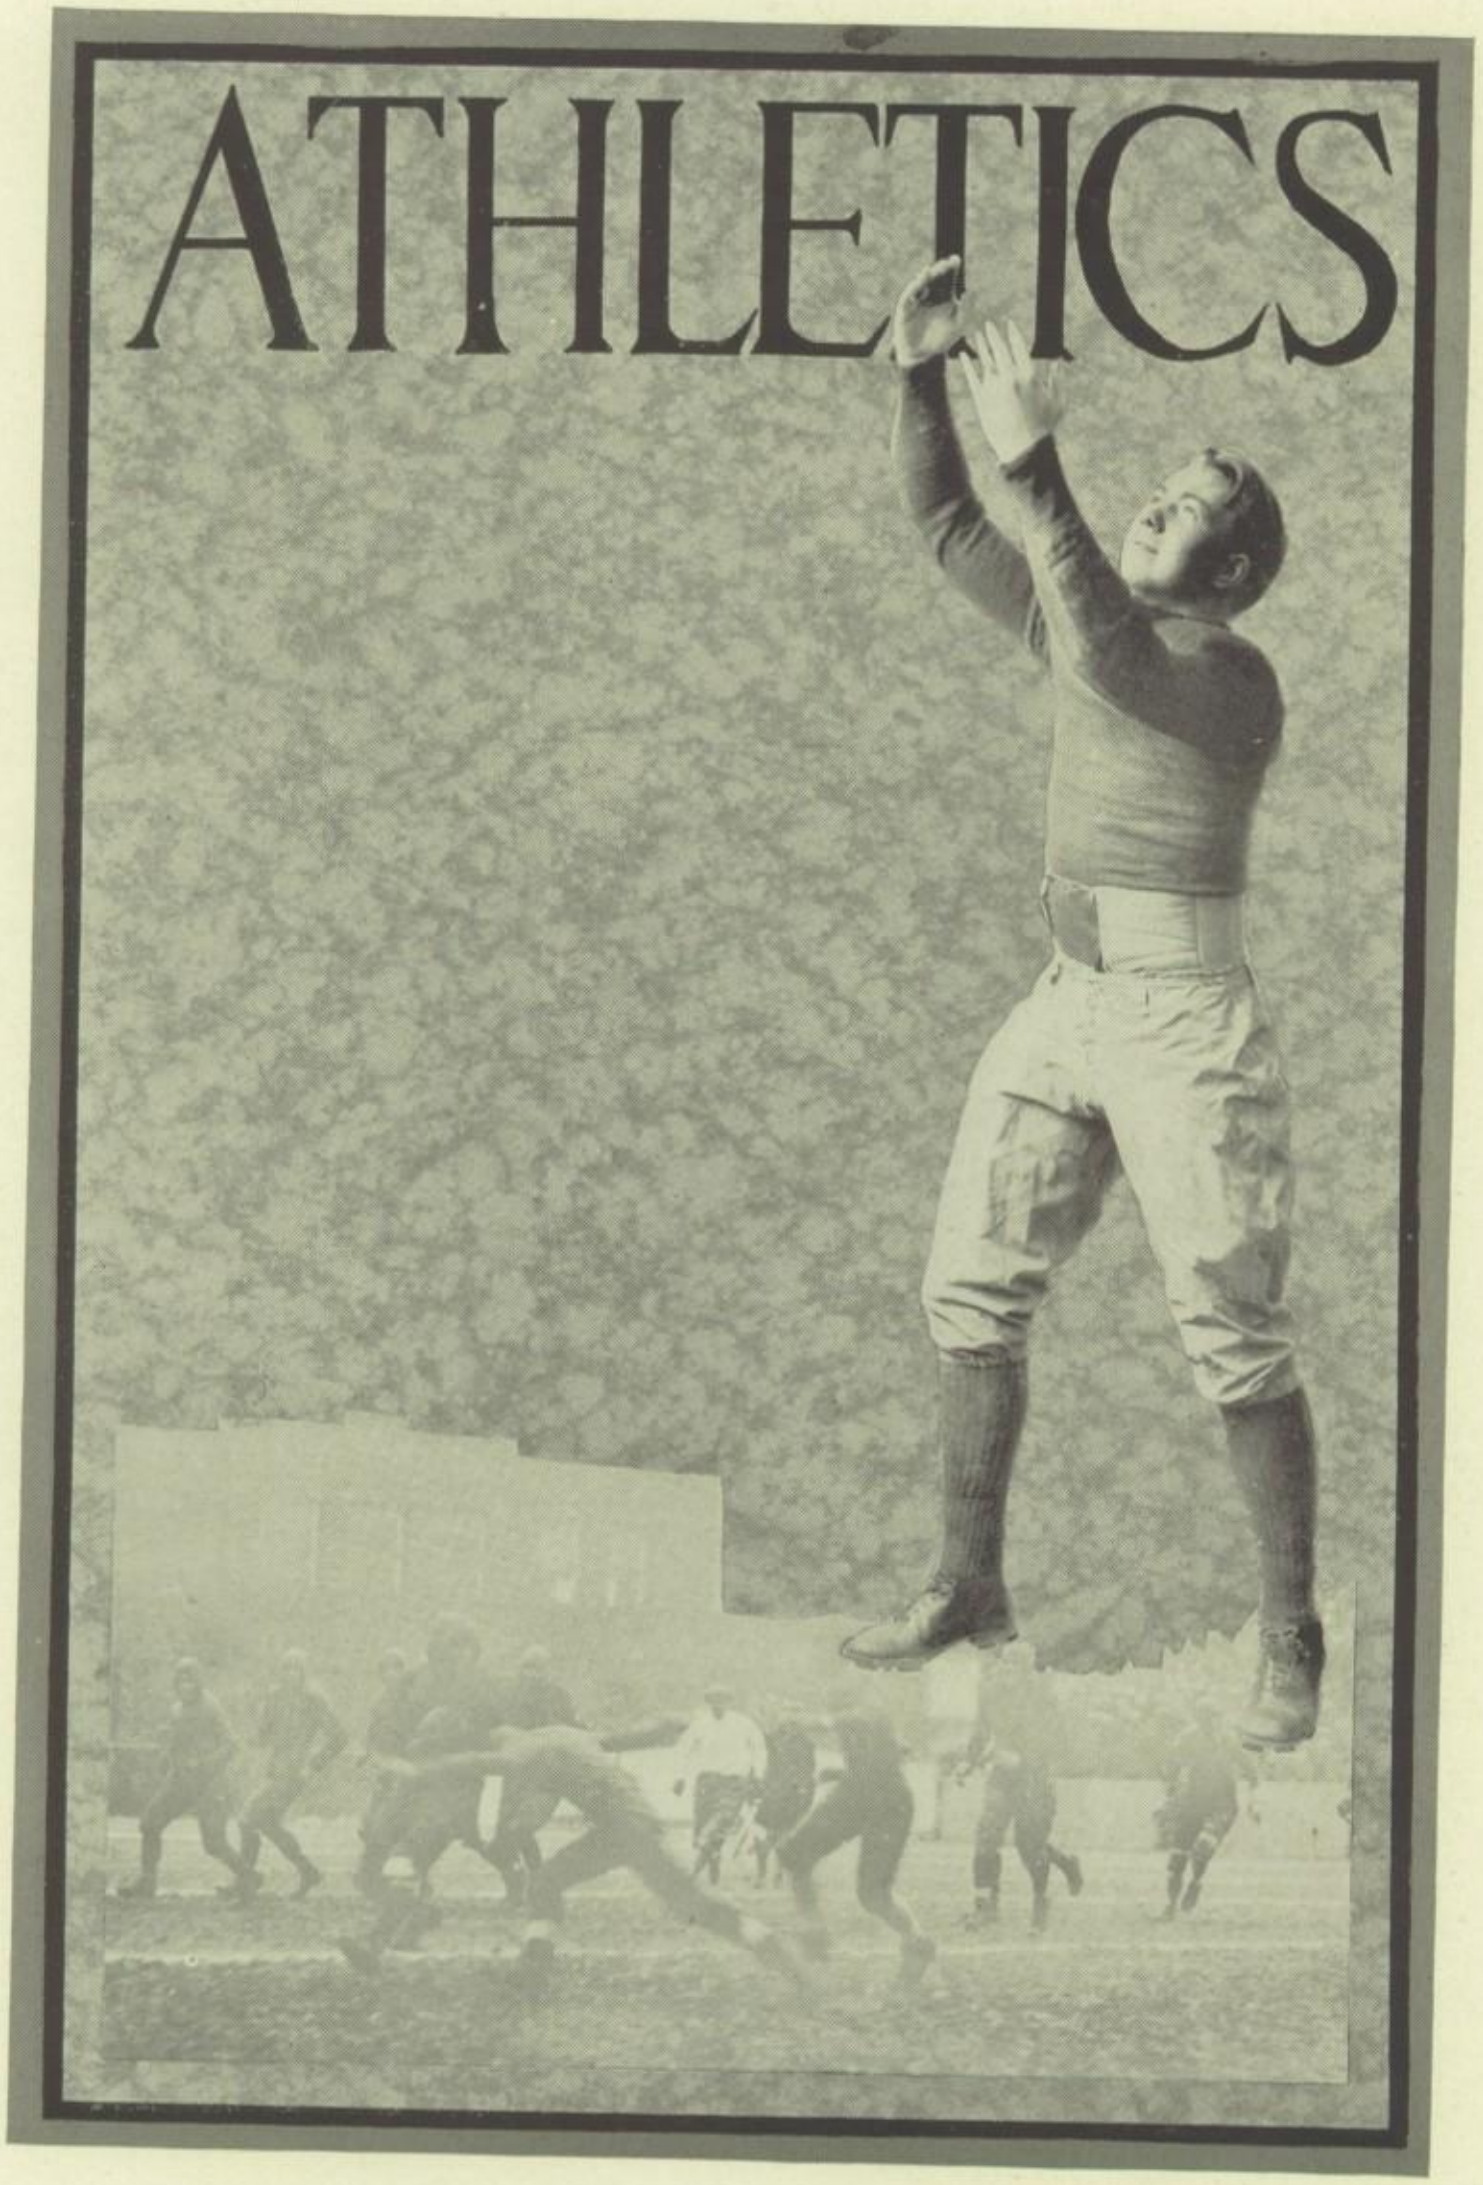
The purpose of the Varsity "H" Association is to create, maintain, and extend better athletics, cleaner athletics and a finer spirit among the students of Heights High. It consists of all those boys who have been awarded the Varsity "H" in recognition of their ability and services. The club adopted a system by which any student wishing to enter the organization has to make a pledge agreeing to follow out certain fundamental rules of athletic training.



ATHLETICS

BILL SLYKER—Head Coach

Coach Slyker has produced two of the greatest teams that have ever represented Heights. Both the football and basketball teams of the past year will long be remembered. The Black and Gold quintet came the closest to winning a Quad championship than any Heights team has when it went into an overtime game with Lakewood only to lose by a few points.

JOHN YOUNG
Athletic Manager

Manager Young has brought order from the chaos that attended Heights' athletics in the past. Due to the system whereby he had charge of all athletics, the teams came through the year without the usual confusion with uniforms, finances, and various other hoodoos of athletics.

Heights Owes Athletic Success to the Untiring Efforts of This Trio

MOX WEBER—Assistant Coach

Coach Weber has given Heights three championship lightweight teams as well as two swimmers of national note. His lightweight football team twice won the league cup, while the basketball team turned that trick once. Al Post and Don Weaver were sent to Chicago to compete for the national breaststroke and fancy diving titles respectively.

Varsity Football

HAROLD MYERS had the responsibility of either tieing the score or losing the game thrust upon his shoulders as he stepped back to kick the extra point after the Hill-toppers' second touchdown in the Heights-Lakewood game. He sent the ball squarely between the uprights, however, and the count stood 14 to 14—the closest that Heights had come to defeating Lakewood on the gridiron since the formation of the Quadrangular league in 1920.

This same Myers fellow was the big gun in the defeat handed Sandusky in what was probably the most thrilling game played on the home field during the 1926 season. Myers heaved two forty-yard passes to Mackenzie and then kicked a placement for the three pointe that won the game. Heights outplayed Sandusky even more than the score shows, but the Hill-toppers could not penetrate the visitors' defense after they had worked the ball within the twenty-yard mark.

Another out-of-town game of great interest was that played with South High of Lima. Heights lost by a 12 to 6 score in a hotly contested tilt. Large and numerous penalties halted the Heights advances.

COACH "BILL" SLYKER

Although the Black and Gold made nine first downs to Shaw's three, the East Clevelanders managed to win by a 21 to 7 score.

Other games were as follows: Heights 13, Collinwood 0; Heights 21, Akron West 0; Heights 0, Lincoln 2; Heights 21, Orrville 25.

Lightweight Football

FOR the first time since the formation of lightweight football, a Heights team failed to win the championship. Coach Weber was faced with the prospect of building an entirely new line-up without one veteran from last year's squad. It was no wonder that the lighties emerged from the season with but one victory—that a 9 to 0 affair over Elyria.

It was experience and nothing else that accounted for the victories of Shaw, Lakewood, and Lorain. The latter garnered a 6-0 win, while Shaw made the extra point and won 7-0. Lakewood won the undisputed Lake Erie league championship by defeating Heights—its old nemesis—19 to 0. Lorain drew second place, Shaw third, and Heights and Elyria brought up in the rear.

In the independent tussles, the lightweights were out-weighed and out-classed. The heavy Mentor varsity plowed through the Heights' line to the tune of 26-0. Bedford also won by weight, 17-2.

Sully Cook was captain of the team for which Estrow, Clark and Spear also starred.

Lightweight Basketball

ALTHOUGH Lorain and Lakewood tied for the first Lake Erie league basketball trophy, mathematically at least, Lorain had the better team.

Both schools won seven and lost one game, but Lorain scored 200 points to its opponent's 102, while Lakewood could only make 176 to 114. This gives Lorain an average per game of 25 markers to its opponent's 12.7 and Lakewood 22 to 14.2.

The same holds good for Shaw and Elyria. In this case Shaw nosed Elyria out of second place by winning three and losing five games, as Elyria took only two out of eight. However, Shaw made but 127 points to its opponent's 166, while Elyria ran up 152 against 163. This gives Elyria an average of about four points per game better than Shaw.

After taking a 29 to 16 drubbing at Elyria, the Heights quintet reversed the tables on the home court 26 to 16, to capture its only victory of the season. On other occasions Lorain, Lakewood, and Shaw experienced no difficulty in defeating the Weberites.

Not a single player returned from last year's squad, so Coach Mox Weber had to build an entirely new team. Hyman Rickel captained the squad.

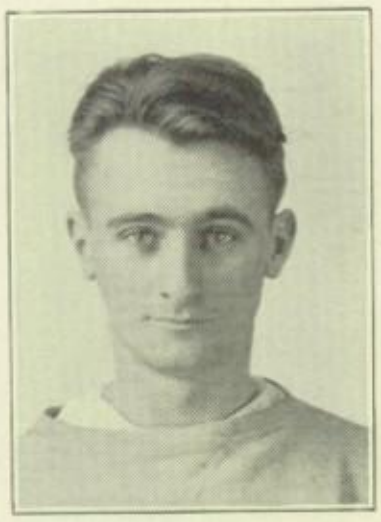
Varsity Baseball

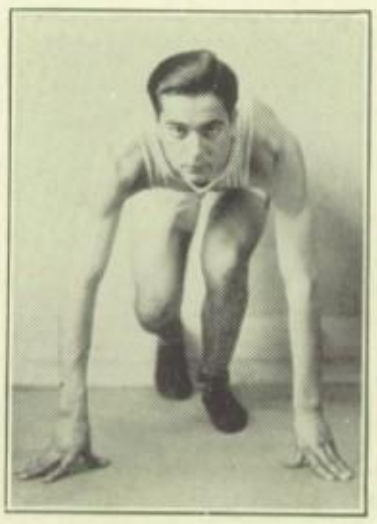


GEORGE SELIG
Shortstop

THE baseball team played but five games, all with Quad teams, a small number as compared with former years. Only one victory was recorded in the five starts, that over University. Lakewood and Shaw each overwhelmed the Hilltoppers twice.

A dearth of material can be offered as a cause for the poor showing. Only three lettermen were back from the previous season—Smith, Barnes, and Myers. Smith performed in the outfield with Gerson, Zimmerman and White. Barnes held down first base in a creditable manner, earning an All-Quad berth. Alvord at second, Selig at short, and Wiess at third rounded out the infield. Mitchell and Rose worked behind the bat. The pitching duties afforded the greatest problem. With no hurlers returning from 1925, mound duty was divided up between Smith, Leech, Oliphant, Mitchell, White, and Myers. None of these, except Myers, who defeated U. S., were effective. The team was coached by M. A. Weber.

Shaw, league champions, presented the first defeat in a slugging victory, 21-3. Leech, White and Smith were battered by the East Cleveland bats, while Barnes stood out for the Black and Gold. Lakewood then handed our varsity a 23-3 beating, but Weber's men returned the next week to conquer U. S. 10-3. Myers gave but three hits, while Gerson smashed a homer and a triple. Shaw repeated a dose of defeat in a 28-6 track meet at Shaw field. Smith was the starting pitcher in this contest but failed to last long. A 22-1 whipping by Lakewood with Mitchell on the mound for six innings, closed the disastrous schedule.



Varsity Track

THE 1926 track season opened with Heights on the short end of a triangular meet with Shaker and University. Shaker scored 46 points, University 32 and Heights 28. Ricciardo won the mile run and Gordon proved high point man with firsts in the 440 yard dash and in the 220 yard low hurdles.

At the Quad meet, held at Lakewood, the Hilltoppers scored three seconds, a third and two fourths. Ricciardo was second in the mile as was Gordon in both the 440 yard dash and the 220 yard low hurdles. Gilchrist was third in the shot put, and Knapp and Oviatt got fourths in the pole vault and shot put. One city record and two quad records were broken when Lakewood gathered 72 points, Shaw 29, U. S. 22 1-2 and Heights 17 1-2 points.

In the last meet of the year, a triangular one with West Tech and Cathedral Latin, Gordon did well in both the 440 and the 220 yard hurdles and Yoder easily copped the mile run.

This year all extra curricular activities for girls are under the auspices of the Girls' Leaders' Class. It has been reorganized and based upon a practically new constitution.

There are four distinct inner clubs that go to make up the Leaders' class, namely; Outing, Athletics, Swimming, and Tennis. Outing includes such activities as hiking, bicycle riding, roller and ice skating, horseback riding, golf, and skiing. The Athletic club is made up of basketball, soccer, baseball, track, and the gym teams. Each one of these divisions is under the leadership of one of the Vice Presidents of the Leaders' Class.

To be eligible for this club, one must have an average grade of "F" in all academic subjects and a grade of "G'" or better in physical education, and pass the qualifications for the Outing and one other club.

Good Evening!

Good evening everybody. This is station G Y M broadcasting from the athletic club of Heights High School.

The "Kitchers" of the school had their long deferred recognition during the soccer season. When the snow was deep enough to exhaust the supply of mittens, hats and goloshes, basketball came to the fore. A season of hard work along that line didn't save us from "Charlie". Then gym Team practice began. After the gym meet, spring and a muddy field brought us outdoors to end the year with track and baseball.

Please stand by for further announcements.

THE Swimming Club is one of the new clubs formed after the opening of the pool. All girls in the school who are eligible for the Leaders' Class could try out for this club, the requirements being, swimming 12 lengths of the pool, floating one minute, two strokes in the good form, and one standing front dive. Meetings were held Thursday nights from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock, an opportunity being given at that time for all those interested in life saving to be coached.

Impressions of An Overworked Pool

OH, dear, here comes that fat girl again! Why must they insist on pestering me with those terrible dives? Then those girls groan when they hit flat and never give a thought to how they take my wind away and make me billow and heave for an hour after. But it's 3:30 now and I'll have some peace. What's that? The Interclass Swimming Meet to be held now? I've stood punishment for this Leader's Class every Thursday afternoon with all their old qualifications—250 yard swim, 15 minute endurance, form strokes, and all the rest of that silly, clap-trap. Nothing to do but grin and bear it. They look more worried than I, so there's a consolation. I just can't contain myself—someone always making me splash over the sides, and then they blame me because I don't feel like a feather bed. But what's this? Why, these girls aren't half as bad as they might be. Some of them certainly can skim along easily, and—there!—I hardly felt that dive. Well, that's over. What's Miss Crane saying? 'Score: Sophomores 28, Seniors 26, Juniors 17.' That's pretty good, I—What! They're to start passing off Red Cross life saving next week? I just won't have them drowning each other and gurgling into me. And a splash party for all the girls to be held the end of May? Well, I'd like to ask what they've ever done besides splash. I'd better begin to fortify myself now—but they surely enjoy themselves, so—well, I'm not one to complain."

Love! Singles! Doubles! - - - Deuce! Only a tennis match! But things happen quickly in the peppy tournaments held by this tennis club. Over fifty girls in each class battled for the top positions in the fall Round Robin tournament. Those high in the list prayed for rain and invented important engagements to keep them from playing, but sooner or later the reckoning came. Puddles and scollaped lines only added interest, and dirty digs from the sidelines were welcomed joyously. When the season was over, the first six in each class were proclaimed the class teams and the first two of each class (through luck, strategy, or possible hard work) made up the varsity. Meanwhile, girls' tennis form was approved by the judges and they went on record as members of the tennis club.

Leaders' Lucky Day

Far above the skies were dull and cold and gray,
And mists still hid the smiling sun away
But yet it rained—not rain that day
But violets—it was the "Leader's Lucky Day."
And maids so fair —one hundred strong
All week shrieked "Tickets" loud and long
It echoed thru the halls both near and far away
"Come do your bit to make it Leader's Lucky Day."
They Came! Brave heroes of the ???? and cloud
(I missed a history test but say it not out loud)
Escorted from the station by faculty and girls so gay
Oh gee! It was this Leader's Lucky Day.
They lunched with juniors small and seniors great
Wee sophomores scarce knew before that heroes ate
And dinner at the Alcazar for officers—Oh say
Don't envy us! The gods just knew 'twas Leaders Day.
The jokes were merry and the food was good as dinners go
('Twas nectar and ambrosia that they served to some we know)
Then back to Heights and into smocks like flowers gay
We ushered guests thru rosy clouds that Leaders Day.
An evening spent'neath polar stars and northern lights
Meant joy and profit too (we hope) for Heights
But treasure for our Alma Mater most of all we pray
The spirit that you helped us win that Lucky Leader's Day.

ALL works of taste must bear a price in proportion to the skill, taste, time, expense and risk attending their invention and manufacture. Those things called dear are, when justly estimated, the cheapest; they are attended with much less profit to the artist than those which everybody calls cheap.

Beautiful forms and compositions are not made by chance nor can they ever, in any material, be made at small expense. A composition for cheapness and not for excellence of workmanship is the most frequent and certain cause of the rapid decay and entire destruction of arts and manufacture.

Don't take water for granted

Every glass of water that comes from the faucet contains 15 per cent live bacteria.

In addition, the foreign matter it contains is capable of producing detrimental effects upon the body.

An iceless cooler loaned free to all homes using two five-gallon bottles a month.

Distillata — distilled water—is the purest water known to science. It is absolutely free of all bacteria, all earthy and other harmful compounds.

You should drink at least 6 glasses every day. It will help you grow and develop like a healthy boy should.

Ask dad and mother to investigate Distillata.

Dr. L. L. Wedekind of the U. S. Navy says: Form the habit of drinking distilled water. It is pleasant, invigorating, rejuvenating. Make it a point to drink three glasses in excess of your natural desire. I am strongly advising the world to live as we do, using distilled water, and live on and on, youths at 65!"

The End of the Trail

FOLKS, we've fought our way up to the finish wire,
We've found it a tough old race,
But we're proud to say that we just couldn't quit
No matter how hot the pace.

AND now, as we've come to the end of the trail
And vision the sunset's glow,
We'll say farewell to readers and friends, in
The "30" written below.

OUR typewriter's click has been stilled at last,
The last story's out—all hail!
With a sad little, brave little smile we're
Set to make the final "mail."

WE wish you the best that is best in luck,
And don't mind saying we see
A bright new trail at the end of the trail.
Life's like that—for you and me.

—30—
